Reasons why project is exempt:

- 1) An application is being made to revise the Loyalton Landfill solid waste facility permit to reflect its closure and the reconfiguration of the site's compliance boundary.
- 2) The landfill is an existing facility that ceased accepting waste in October 2017 and whose closure construction was substantially completed in 2018. The landfill is currently monitored to ensure the integrity of the closure construction and protection of the environment.
- 3) A Final Environmental Impact Report was previously prepared for the landfill operations in 1979 by Harding Lawson and Associates, which encompassed site closure.
- 4) The permit revision and reconfiguration of the compliance boundary are minor in nature and do not provide for additional site uses or operations. The closure permit revision and compliance boundary reconfiguration are separate from and do not encompass existing solid waste transfer operations at the site; data collection only.
